LUNDI KOTAL BURNED.
The happier appearance of affaire on the Indian frontier which marked the close of last week has unfortunately been dispelled by subsequent sevents. The Afridis have risen, Ali Munjid has been abandoned, Fort Mande has been relieved with difficulty, and the Khyber Pase is in the hands of the enemy. Whether the hands of the enemy. Whether the hands of the enemy. Whether the pass will have to be won back at the point of the British beyonst remains to be each, but at the moment of going to be each, but at the comment of going to be each, but at the comment of going to be each, but at the comment of going to be each, but at the comment of going to be each, but at the moment of going to be each, but at the comment of going to be each, but at the going to be each, but at the comment of going to be each, but at the going to be each, but at the will, no doubt, come along in due course. The visitor to Brighton must have often noticed the numerous maidens on the char-a-banes, all bound for the Dyke, with an anxious eye to the future. These, however, do not by any means represent the only class of the community that consult the female oracle. Our royalty and aristocracy have also cotsulted her. It was at a bazaar held at the Duke and Duchess of York consulted her but and Duchess of York consulted her but and Duchess of York consulted her but and Duchess of York consulted her had but and Duchess of Portland, when Miss Dallas Yorke, was told that she would first meet her had but and on a railway platform, and would eventually marry a duke, which prophety turned out to be correct. Even that volatile and irrepressible Mr. Gladstone and his wife have visyted our "pal," and have been well pleased with her prognostications. THE BERMONDSEY TRACEDY. At Southwark, Joseph Axford, costermonger, of Star-place, Bermo sey, was charged on remand v causing the death of Mary Stan causing the death of Mary Stanley, his paramour, by striking her on the head with a chair. Mr. Lewis prose-cuted on behalf of the Treasury, and Mr. Crocker defended.—Evidence was adduced identical with that given at the coroner's inquest, and prisoner was committed for trial without bail.
